

*Glow
In
My Eyes*

If I had eyes on the back of my head
Would you still be courageous?
If I could hear you talking in my absence
Could you still look me in the eye?

A look to the sky, I put on a smile,
Feeling warm rays on my skin
A glow in my eyes, defeating your lies,
Feels so good to say goodbye!

Your cold eyes cannot hurt me
I'm feeling stronger now
You became so back-stabbing
'cause you can't even stand yourself!

I left this all so far behind ... Goodbye!
I won't return, I hope you burn in hell!

So hard to focus on your own life
When everyone around is favoured by fate
How can you enjoy your fucking welfare
When sun is shining bright on the other side?

You can't go on this way, there's no one else to blame
Envy's eating you alive, you'll stay the same

There's only one thing standing in your way
You're not number one, you're not number one
But if you once reach the top, I tell you,
You will be alone, you will be alone

You cannot go on this way
There is no one else to blame

Envy
